FROM + RICHARD

Dear Friends

I hope that as you read this you will have had a good summer. For the last few months I have spent a lot of time indoors! However, I'm delighted that as lockdown restrictions have eased a bit I shall be hitting the road around the Diocese on the four Saturdays leading up to our Diocesan Gift Day on September 20th. My plan is to visit every benefice around the diocesan land boundary over those four days and lead whoever joins me in prayer for the life of our diocesan family. The times and venues can be found on the diocesan website or from your parish priest.

All that we do as Christians is based in prayer. However, the focus of this praying is particularly towards our gift day. Churches throughout the Diocese have faced unprecedented financial challenges due to COVID-19. Fundraising events have ground to a halt and fee income has dried up. Yet ministry still needs to be funded. In all of our churches what is given is received back in the form of clergy ministry and support. For most churches this doesn't cover the actual cost, so the gap is funded either through the generosity of other parishes giving over and above their own provision, or through our historic reserves.

I hope our Gift Day will be an opportunity to give thanks to God for His love and generosity towards us. I hope that it will enable us to contribute over and above our normal giving to the life changing ministry that is transforming lives all across our Diocese. The importance of the four days of prayer leading up to September 20 is to reinforce that giving is part of our discipleship. Even if you can't join us at one of the venues, I hope you would be able to join us in prayer at home or in your parish. As someone once said, "prayer moves the hand that moves the world." As we face the effects of this crisis together, it can also move our hearts to sacrificial generosity and love.

I so look forward to meeting many of you in the coming weeks.

With every blessing
+Richard

MAKING A FACE MASK

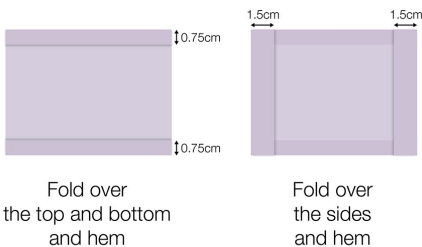

This is a simple guide to making a face covering. A cloth face covering should cover your mouth and nose while allowing you to breathe comfortably. More information on using face coverings during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic is available.

If you would like more detailed information on how to make a face covering please visit the Big Community Sew website

To make a simple face covering
You will need:

- two or three 25cm x 25cm squares of cotton fabric
- two 20cm pieces of elastic (or string or cloth strips)
- needle and thread
- scissors

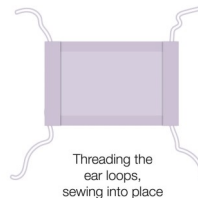

Items you need for a sewn cloth face covering

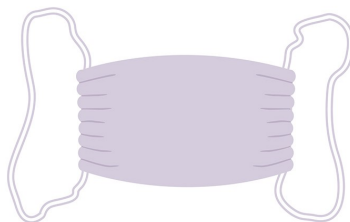

Step 1: Cut out 25cm x 25cm squares of cotton fabric. Stack the squares on top of each other.

Step 2: Fold over one side by 0.75cm and hem, then repeat on the opposite side. Make 2 channels by folding the double layer of fabric over 1.5cm along each side and stitching this down.

Step 3: Run a 20cm length of elastic (or string or cloth strip) through the wider hem on each side of the face covering. These will be the ear loops. Use a large needle to thread it through. Tie the ends tightly.

Step 4: Gently pull on the elastic so that the knots are tucked inside the hem. Gather the sides of the covering on the elastic and adjust so the covering fits your face. Then securely stitch the elastic in place to keep it from slipping. These elastic loops fit over the ears.

Completed face covering, knots tucked in, cloth slightly gathered

Face coverings should not be used by children under the age of 3 or those who may find it difficult to manage them correctly. For example, primary age children unassisted, or those with respiratory conditions.

Always take care to use equipment safely to avoid injury. Children should only follow these instructions under the supervision of adult

OLDBURY NEWS

Services at Oldbury will be fortnightly in September and October at 10.30 starting from 13th September, with that on the 27th being followed by the Annual Parochial Church Meeting. It is open to all church members, although voting is limited to those on the electoral roll. October services are on the 11th and 25th. Can we reassure people that we shall all be observing social distancing and hygiene requirements and mask wearing if applicable as advised by church authorities and the government.

The church is open 10.30-11.30 on Sunday mornings even when there are no services and on Wednesday 2.30-3.30.

We are revising our plans for a toilet and kitchen improvements to limit the extension to just the toilet and reordering the coffee corner to improve kitchen facilities, following feedback from the Diocese.

The Shropshire Historic Churches Trust are promoting local efforts to raise funds, to be split between this charity that provides grants to churches like ours, and the individual churches. Tony Norgrove is taking a lead on this and organising a walk and supper. Date and details to be announced, but it will be a ticket only event to ensure that social distancing can be observed.

We continue to pray for Ken and for those known to us who are suffering health problems or finding the Covid restrictions trying.

QUATFORD NEWS

All is well at Quatford at the moment, and the members of the congregation are keeping safe and well. The sheep are with us for their second visit of the summer and as expected are doing a great job of getting the church yard in order once again.

We recently had our Quinquennial Inspection and have received a good report, with only a few minor repairs needing attention. Some roof tiles have slipped, part of a French drain needs attention, with some debris caught in the gully between the Nave and the south aisle. So a pleasing result.

Thanks go to Marjorie once again for her virtual vicaring and to the clergy team for their hard work in producing the Sunday service and all that goes with it. The food for thought item is always interesting, to read so many varied views and opinions.

At long last we are making progress with the installation of the long awaited kitchen facilities, hoping that work will begin in 2-3 weeks time, we are in the queue for the kitchen fitter!!
Keep safe and well,

Rachel Edwards

PARISH GIFT DAY

20TH SEPTEMBER

In part this will be our response of gratitude to God for his gifts to us. Generosity is part of our response to a loving God.

Parish Offer pays for the cost of the ministry so wonderfully demonstrated over these last few months".

"This Gift Day is an opportunity to invite you to give to the ministry and mission of your local church to allow your PCC to have the confidence to make a generous Parish Offer towards the cost of ministry during 2021."

CLIMATE SUNDAY

13th September

This time of year, from 1st September until the feast of St Francis of Assisi on 4th October, is recognised by Christians throughout the world as the “Season of Creation”. It is a time to renew our relationship with our Creator and all Creation through prayer and action for our world and its people.

This year, in particular, the need for just and sustainable systems has been revealed by the far-reaching effects of the global Covid-19 pandemic. It’s reminded us of the fragility of life and shown the damage we have done to the wider creation. Nearer to home we’ve had flooding in February, the driest May since records began and heat waves & storms in August, as timely reminders that the climate crisis has not gone away.

Churches in the Bridgnorth Team will be marking the “Season of Creation” by holding “Climate Sunday” on 13th September with special themed services in the Churches which are open, and also in our virtual Facebook worship. Let us join together in celebrating creation and praying for a better fairer world for everyone.

ART OUT OF LOCKDOWN

My last social visit before Covid 19 lockdown was to a cousin who lives in Treflach near Oswestry,

On a walk in the area I noticed a signpost pointing over a stile towards the hills, this footpath sign had the image of a person walking and indicating the way, I took photographs and created a painting depicting the person entwined with Ivy and having no freedom, the birds perched on the sign still having freedom of open space and in the distance shows a path, a way out.

During lockdown and with art supplies not available, I saw an opportunity using old fencing, and the feather edge panels became my canvas, garden art.

The weather was good and I was able to work outside with a passion, my oil painting, the garden art and my sketchbook took me through lockdown along with a supportive hubby and video calls from family.

Do you have a story to tell ?, if you do please share it, St Mary's church Bridgnorth is holding 'An art out of lockdown ' exhibition and you are invited to share and view the work, paper will be available for you to write your own story.

The exhibition will be open Sunday and Wednesday from 6th of September to the 30th of September 2020.

TASLEY NEWS

SEPTEMBER and our Church doors will be opening once more. It has been too long since we were able to worship together, but on the 20th September at 10.30am we will be celebrating Communion at Tasley.

This will be in accordance with The Church of England guidelines. Please be aware that masks must be worn and social distancing will be observed. Hand sanitiser will be available at the door.

Our thanks to the Bridgnorth Team Ministry for reaching out to us during these troubled times, Clive's hard work in preparing the weekly circular and all Services including the Sunday morning service shown on YouTube and Facebook. The "virtual" Hymn singing alternating weekly between Members of St Mary's choir and The Astley and Tasley combined choir is very much appreciated and enjoyed.

Some of you may already know that our dear friend John Webb has decided to step down after 10 years. We thank him for all his Pastoral care. He brought so much to us when we needed him most. He was a driving force in our All Age Worship and we will do our utmost to uphold it. We hope that he will be able to join us in the not too distant future for a service of celebration and thanksgiving.

CLERGY THOUGHTS BY CLIVE

I see that the last time I contributed to “Clergy thoughts” was in February, the last month in which we had anything remotely like normality. Since then life has not been the same for any of us. We have had to restrict our activities to protect ourselves and others from the virus. We have been learning to wear masks, more for the protection of others than for ourselves. We have taken a step back to childhood in being reminded to wash our hands and being shown recommended ways in which to do it, ranging from the advice to sing “God save the Queen” once or “Happy Birthday” twice to ensure that we take long enough over it, to demonstration videos by various people all over the world. Two of my favourites have been the Mayor of Tokyo’s handwashing technique and the Japanese pop group Arashi’s demonstration video, complete with specially written song. Many of us have so far managed to avoid the virus, while others have caught it and recovered, but perhaps some of us have lost someone we know through it. Slowly some aspects of normality have started to reappear, but the threat remains and we still have a long way to go.

For me recent months have to some extent brought me back to an old normality. As a former IT professional, the task of editing on-line services has brought me back to the strangely familiar world of sitting in front of a computer for hours, as well as to the familiar frustration of finding work-arounds for software bugs that I’m not in a position to fix myself.

The familiar, whether it’s something familiar from an earlier period in our lives, or the familiar routines of only a few months ago before everybody was concerned about the virus, can give us a sense of security. It can also be a prison. The Israelites had scarcely escaped from Egypt before they started yearning for the old normality: “If only we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, where we sat by the fleshpots and ate our fill of bread; for you have brought us out into the wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger” (Exodus 16:3). The old normality is viewed through rose-tinted glasses; the old experience of slavery and oppression is viewed as a time of fleshpots, as security in contrast to the apparent uncertainties of following God's lead out of Egypt towards the Promised Land.

Perhaps the interruption of normality is a useful reminder that the old familiarities, whatever they are, cannot last, that "here we have no lasting city, but we are looking for the city that is to come" (Hebrews 13:14), that, like the heroes of faith in Hebrews 11, we are "strangers and foreigners on the earth" (Hebrews 11:13). We shouldn't seek for security in things that pass away, in things we can't keep, in circumstances that change through circumstances that we can't control. "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and for ever" (Hebrews 13:8). Let's seek our security in the right place.

ASTLEY ABBOTTS NEWS

Where has this year gone I am already writing an autumn crosslink! It has been an odd, somewhat nerve wracking summer, but now hopefully things are looking up.

Sunday services have resumed, with suitable social distancing, our organ is finished and sounding superb. We hope to start the final refurbishment before long--kitchen and toilet facilities and heating (hooray!)

Can I put in a plea for our 100 club which has come round again, time goes so quickly, but not only is it an excellent way of supporting our church, you have a very good chance of a win!

The sad news is that we have lost 2 long standing members of the community. Our thoughts are with Rosalea Hatton, who has lost her husband Clive, who has been a familiar face in the area for many years. We also think of Martin Billings and family who have lost Dorothy at the age of 92. Dorothy was an exceptional person who gave her all to the community, a home economics teacher by trade, she was on the PCC for many years, she supported the village hall, and with her husband Malcolm they were both prominent committee members of the gardening club, and members of the national pony carriage driving club.

Idonea and Shelah

In the Time of Pandemic

And the people stayed home.

And they read books, and listened, and rested, and exercised, and made art, and played games, and learned new ways of being, and were still.

And they listened more deeply. Some meditated, some prayed, some danced. Some met their shadows. And the people began to think differently.

And the people healed.

And, in the absence of people living in ignorant, dangerous, mindless, and heartless ways, the earth began to heal.

And when the danger passed, and the people joined together again, they grieved their losses, and made new choices, and dreamed new images, and created new ways to live and heal the earth fully, as they had been healed.
