On being yourself

I remember my first day of school in September 1969. "Just be yourself!" exhorted my grandpa - which at the tender age of four made no sense whatsoever but which I have had good reason to think about many times since. I have learned that 'being yourself' is an important part of living a full and faithful life.

Each of us is unique yet we feel continual pressure to fit in with the expectations of others. As my grandpa tried to point out to the anxious four-year-old in the oversized blazer, happiness comes from embracing who God made us to be. When we are comfortable in our own skins, we are able to contribute authentically to our communities and build stronger relationships with others. It is true of the church too. A church that is unsure of itself can easily drift into simply reflecting the preferences of society. A confident Church that knows who and whose it is can lovingly but clearly proclaim its beliefs even when they are unfashionable and teach the gospel in all seasons even (perhaps especially) at the hour of death.

Which brings me to the horror of what are euphemistically called "Pure Cremations". One might also accurately call them Carcass Disposal. Increasingly, society is sold on direct cremation because it appears simple, efficient and cheap. It is also pastorally destructive leaving families with no space to grieve and acknowledge death.

The Church should ask itself why it is handing the business of dealing with death over to the secular and profit-seeking funeral industry and whether something important is being lost on our watch. Christian funerals are not simply about disposing of a body. They are acts of worship in which we commend a loved one to God's mercy, support the grieving, give thanks for a life lived, and proclaim the resurrection of Jesus.

The Church of England is a custodian of the Christian understanding of death, burial, resurrection, and hope.

For two millennia, Christians have cared deeply about the treatment of the body because the body matters to God.

When the Church conducts a funeral, whether culminating in burial or cremation, it is being itself. It is doing what Christians have done for centuries: gathering around the dead and the bereaved, speaking words of hope, praying together, and declaring that death does not have the last word.

If the Church becomes hesitant about offering this witness, it risks forgetting part of its own identity.

To be confident in whose we are means being confident enough to say that people need more than efficiency at the end of life. They need prayer, community, ritual, remembrance and hope.

The Church serves society best not by surrendering these things but by offering them generously and joyfully and unashamedly in the way that it knows. Let's be who we are.

Clergy Thoughts

But he said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ’s power may rest on me. 2 Corinthians 12:9

We’ve all had occasions which stay with us long after the event. For some it's their wedding; for others, their graduation; and for others still, a memorable evening at the theatre or a concert. Well, as I write this, Petertide was only three weeks ago and thoughts and memories of my Priesting at Hereford Cathedral are still very much with me.

There are many reasons for this: thanks to the fabulous Hereford Diocese Communications team, a video was posted on social media on the day of the ordinations featuring some of the highlights; two days later, I received a folder of nearly 300 pictures they had taken and only a few days ago a picture that obviously showed a little more of the fun side of the Church of England than usual appeared in the Church Times showing all the ordinands climbing, hanging from and milling around one of the big trees in the Bishop’s garden (needless to say, my feet were firmly planted on the ground!).

It was also a special weekend because of all the love and support shown from everyone across the Benefice. I remain honoured, moved and humbled by all those who came to the cathedral and/or celebrated with us all the following day as I presided at my first communion. It was such a blessing to know that you were all in my corner (it was also a blessing that the altar in Morville was far enough away that you didn’t see any little hiccups!).

And finally, it has stayed with me because quite simply it was a pretty big deal. Even now when I think of the vows that we made as ordinands, I feel a little lightheaded, particularly as I dwell on the words: It is to Christ that you will render account for your stewardship of his people. Yes. It is a big deal and honestly, I’m not really sure I can do it.

Continued.

But the simple yet profound words the ordinands sang in the service have stayed with me and have become something of an anchor for me in times of self-doubt:

Take O take me as I am. Summon up what I shall be. Place your seal upon my heart and live in me.

Essentially, they serve as a reminder that God calls us not because we are perfect or ready for service, but as we are. Through His life in us, His Spirit moving, guiding, and working within us, His power is revealed. What's more, it is through the process of submitting to His will in our lives and learning to rely on His strength rather than our own that we are equipped, and the people we are destined to become are summoned up.

Now that takes the pressure off a little!

And the wonderful thing is that it is not just priests and deacons who are called and equipped. The Church is one body and we all have our parts to play in his kingdom work. And if you don't feel equipped as I so often don't, then the words of that song (which are all supported in the New Testament) are for you as well.

So, I pray you are encouraged today, not to work harder at becoming, and not to wait until you have become, but to know that God calls you as you are, in weakness and self-doubt, to rely on His grace and strength, so that your role in His Kingdom-building mission might be summoned up.

St. Mary's Bridgnorth News

Well what can I tell you has been happening at St. Marys over this Summertime. The month of July started with a number of us from St. Mary's going, along with friends from across the benefice to Vickie's ordination at Hereford Cathedral. This was a wonderfully uplifting service . I hope the memory of it will continue to be an encouragement to Vickie throughout her ministry.

Following the ordination a large group of us from St. Mary's were delighted to attend Vickies first communion service at Morville. . The Morville congregation looked after us all very well and we all enjoyed another of Mary- Janes lovely cakes.

July also saw us holding our Pimm's and Praise. This was a most delightful afternoon A lovely service with lovely music on a lovely afternoon . Thanks go to the very talented musicians who performed so professionally for us. The service was Followed by Pimm's and fellowship. I f you weren't able to join us this time I hope you will be able to do so next time.

August at St. Mary's has felt like a real holiday month with lots of visitors in church and lots of our congregation including our choir taking well-deserved holidays. September sees everything resuming. We look forward to having the choir back. The chamber choir practices are starting again in readiness for their much loved Christmas concert.

The connect lunch will take place on the third Tuesday in September at the Old Castle. It would be really helpful if you could let me know if you are coming and choose your meal in advance as this cuts down the amount of time we must wait for our meals on the day.

September also sees us looking forward to welcoming Riders and Striders on the 12th September and a Daddy's Hat concert on the 19th September.

Catherine Wilson.

Remembering Martin Blackburn.

Martin Radmore Blackburn, a long-standing member of St Mary's congregation, has died at the age of 87. Martin had served on the PCC, was Treasurer for many years, and remained on a counting team.

He was born in Broseley where his father was in the police and his mother was an accomplished historian and author, having written a biography of the Spitfire designer R J Mitchell. Martin had the distinction of travelling on the Severn Valley line before its closure, including the long-dismantled railway from Bewdley to Woofferton.

Wartime, and Martin's early years, took the family to Aberystwyth and subsequently he was schooled in north Shropshire. His plan to study geology (a lifetime interest) foundered, but National Service came to the rescue. He was able to serve in the RAF and trained at radio school prior to posting to Singapore, an experience he really enjoyed. As a flight controller, he saw that storms could be tracked on radar, permitting an accurate weather forecast.

At last, Martin had discovered his calling which he would pursue for the rest of his professional life. After National Service it was an easy step to the Meteorological Office, and after training, he was based in Cambridge working on weather balloons. But more significantly he met another young scientist, Valerie, with whom he shared a deep faith. They married, and, in due course, Gavin was born.

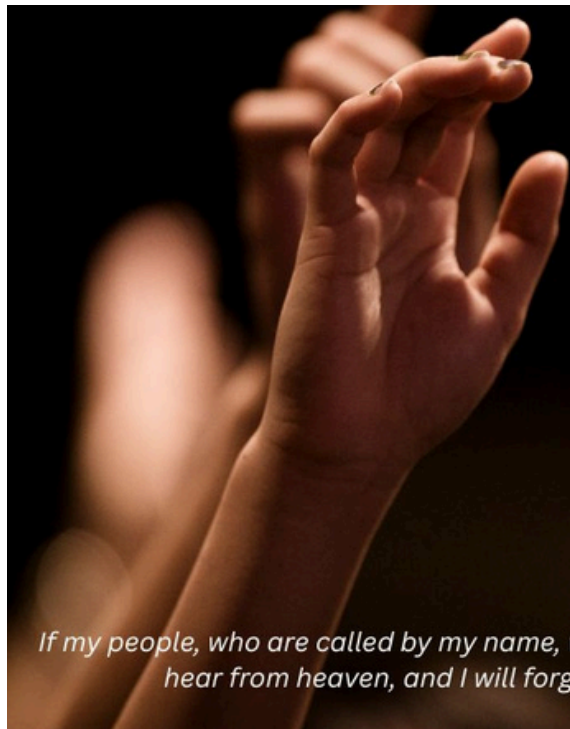

In the 1970s Martin saw that the future lay in computing and he went back to college to study before working on Met Office computers at Beaufort Park, Bracknell, specialising in thunderstorm tracking. Despite bringing up a young family in this new town Martin and Valerie found time to travel all over the UK and Europe, often camping, and he was also churchwarden at St Michaels, Easthampstead.

For retirement, Martin was determined to return to his roots in Shropshire and he and Valerie settled in Bridgnorth. He enjoyed the garden as well as his church work; and of course, he took a keen interest in Gavin, his wife Marcia and their children Catherine and Ian. Ever the scientist, Martin continued to record maximum and minimum temperatures, and write a journal, every day until the end of his life. Well into his eighties he took part in the Bridgnorth Walk. He was also able to combine his interest in railways and strong ales at the Railwayman's Arms! When Valerie's health deteriorated, and she could no longer live at home, Martin would read her poetry at Oldbury Grange every day,

He will be much missed.

St Mary's Magdalene, Quatford News

I hope this finds you all well. The weather has been exceptionally hot , a little to much for most of us. I for one shall be pleased to see some rain, for the sake of the garden if nothing else. Although a shortage of water is always a concern.

Some of you may have heard by now, that the long awaited lift has arrived, been installed and commissioned. We were able to use it on Sunday 9th August for the morning service, which was obviously very pleasing for those up the who have struggled up the steps over the last few months (well nearly 12 months) it is a great relief to be up and running once again. Very similar to the previous lift , just a more up to date model.

Many thanks to all who have helped in any way for us to achieve our goal.

We are as usual taking part in the Ride and Stride, when I say taking part I should say the church will be open to visitors and refreshments will be available, and a slice of cake for anyone who may feel in need of sustenance. We look forward to seeing you.

Our Harvest Festival service this year Sunday 27th September will consist of a Soup lunch followed by something sweet, this will start 1.00 pm and and the service will follow on and take the form of a Songs of Praise, at 3.00pm. All are welcome, but please book a place if you would like to join us (just as a guide for catering purposes).

We are asking for a small donation of £5.00 to cover costs.

Bridgnorth Tea & Tots ☕ Is new to Bridgnorth.

Bridgnorth Tea & Tots is run entirely by a team of local volunteers, made up of busy parents, local childminders and, with the support of the team at St Leonard's Hall Church. We're all giving our time because we believe every family deserves somewhere warm & welcoming to spend a Monday morning

For over 30 years, this much-loved group was lovingly run by two dedicated sisters, and we'd like to thank them for everything they gave to generations of local families. Their hard work created something that meant so much to so many, and we're grateful to be continuing that story.

Now we're excited to build on that wonderful legacy, bringing fresh ideas while keeping the warm, welcoming community spirit that has always made this group so special.

♥ Bridgnorth Tea & Tots isn't just organised by volunteers. It's brought to life by local people who care about local families.

We can't wait to welcome both familiar and new faces when we open our doors again on Monday 7th September.

Whether you're coming along for the first time or returning with another little one, the kettle will be on, the toys will be ready, and a warm welcome will be waiting. ☕🧸

TO BOOK FOR CATERING PURPOSES

St Calixtus, Astley Abbots News

Hello from a very parched Astley Abbots, where our poor farmers are struggling to harvest as the crops are too dry, something very unusual & very difficult for them all to cope with. We hold all farmers in our prayers at this busy time.

As I write this article we have just thoroughly enjoyed our Breakfast Garden Gathering where 32 of us joined to worship & enjoy breakfast in Carol Baker's beautiful garden.

A big thank you to Carol for her generosity in sharing her space, to the McHugh & Mondon families for their contribution & to Richard Commander & Peter Holding for the delightful music, hopefully we can do something similar again soon if the weather holds!

On Thursday 3rd September Caring For God's Acre are coming to scythe the meadow at church, they will be with us from 10am to 3pm, please do come along to help. Either with the scything which is always fun, or other tasks like keeping the workers topped up with tea & cake. Let us know if you would like to help, after all 'many hands' & all that!

Our Harvest Supper this year will be on Saturday 10th October at Stone Croft at 6pm. There will be live music & a two course hot meal as usual. Do contact any of the followin to book your place: Rosemary Patey, Peter or Helen Holding or Juanita Gennard

Alternatively message us through the St Calixtus Facebook page.

Attendance will be ticket only, bought in advance as this is a private home.

We are very grateful to Rachel & David for their hospitality, numbers will be limited so don't leave it too long to book!

St Calixtus, Astley Abbotts News

As is traditional, our Harvest Festival Service will take place on the following day, Sunday 11th October, starting at 4pm. Do come along, refreshments will be served after the service & we usually arrange a surprise or two! The service will be suitable for all ages, all faiths & none as usual. This is a great community worship opportunity & a great way to pray for & show our support for our farming families, some of whom will join us if their work allows.

Our thoughts are with those in our community who are ill, please let us know if you or anyone you know would like some practical support or prayer from us.

We also send our prayers & love to the Gennard & Parr families on the loss of their Uncle recently.

We are looking forward to meeting together at the Benefice Songs of Praise at St Leonard's Hall Church on 30th August at 3.30pm, please note that this will, of course, replace our usual morning service at St Calixtus.

We hope that you will join us at a service or event soon, in the meantime we continue to pray for our community & send our love.

God bless you.

Helen

ASTON EYRE HALL GUIDED TOUR AND TALK at 11a.m.

Aston Eyre Hall is a Grade II* high status stone built medieval dwelling. It is situated on a formerly defended area immediately to the north of the Norman church and associated with a Gatehouse now in separate ownership to the east.

The Hall had an unusual building history and seems to have taken over a century to complete; by the end of the 16th century it appears to have been converted to agricultural use and remained so until the end of the 20th century. Despite being re-roofed and pierced with agricultural openings the building retained its essentially medieval character and survived because it still had purpose. Since the end of farming on the site the building has been redundant and inevitably maintenance became neglected further. The site was divided into two properties and the now owner began a campaign of repairs to the medieval buildings and there are intentions to restore some or all of the site to residential use in order to ensure its long term future.

The owner of Aston Eyre Hall will commence the guided tour at 11a.m and the tour will take between one and one and a half hours. The cost for the tour is £5 per person. Please wear sturdy shoes and appropriate clothing as much of the tour will not be under cover.

The Time Team crew visited Aston Eyre Hall and the programme (series 5 episode 6 is available free to view on Youtube)

All proceeds to go to Aston Eyre Church.

St Nicholas, Oldbury News

Who can believe that this is the September issue of Crosslink already, Everyone that i speak to feels that the year is going quickly. The summer holidays are coming to an end and now we are looking forward to Harvest festival.

To celebrate the harvest this year on Sunday 20th September there will be a Hymns and Pimms, Songs of praise at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

We are hoping to have this outside if the weather is kind to us. As usual donations for the Food Bank will be very greatly received.

We are very happy to welcome back Revd Marjorie back after her summer break and on the 19th July we also welcomed John Prockter, who came to talk to us and update us on the work of the Bridgnorth Youth and School Projects. He gave such a very informative and interesting talk about the work done with young people in a very wide area in and around Bridgnorth. he also answered several questions from the congregation at the end of the session.

There is going to be a Week of Prayer starting from Monday 7th September to Friday 10th September when there will be an opportunity to meet and pray together.

Each day it will be held at a different church, on Monday 7th September St. Nicholas Oldbury will be pleased to welcome everyone from 6.30pm.

It has been a quite period for St. Nicholas but we look forward to seeing everyone back from holiday and planning events for the Autumn.

St Peter & St Paul, Tasley News

It's time for our September newsletter for Cross+Link. What a summer of sunshine it has been and still no rain!

On the 4th July we visited Hereford Cathedral to attend and Celebrate Vickie's Ordination and then on Sunday we attended St Gregory's Church Morville where Vickie presided over her first service of Holy Communion. We wish her and her family well as she continues her Ministry.

In July we welcomed Annabelle Careless and her Family into Tasley Church for her Baptism. We hope to welcome them again at future Services.

Our thanks to Lucinda, our new Lay Reader for leading our Life and Soul Service on the 26th July. We look forward to seeing her again in the future.

We continue to remember Jen, Irene, Shelah and Paul and all those who can longer get to Church on Sundays. Please know that we are here if you need anything.

It was with great sadness that learned of the death of Rick Hollands and our thoughts and Prayers are with Sarah, Gareth and all the family.

Rick's Funeral Service will take place at Tasley Church on the 11th September.

Our thoughts and Prayers are also with the families of Finley Monteith and Neil Jones who's Funeral Services took place at Tasley Church during July.

Raise Money for your Church
whilst enjoying the Shropshire Countryside
Saturday 12th September

Every year in early September, the Shropshire Historic Churches Trust organises a sponsored 'Ride and Stride'. This is a great way of spending an enjoyable day exploring Shropshire as well as making money for our own churches and for the Trust. Half the money raised goes to our local church and the remainder to the Trust which helps Shropshire's churches by providing grants for maintenance and repairs.

Participants visit as many (or as few) churches as they wish, usually cycling or walking between them, but horse riders and those arriving by car or mobility scooter are also very welcome. You can choose to be sponsored for each church or chapel visited or just for taking part. Many take part with friends or as a family and you can choose whether to visit locally or explore further afield. If you can't Ride & Stride, why not fill your car with friends and drive between churches?

Most churches provide simple refreshments and at many you'll also receive a warm welcome from locals and maybe learn something about the church and its fascinating history.

To find out more about getting involved or sponsoring someone, contact Sheila Royle for St Mary's, Bridgnorth or your local church co-ordinator.

Further information and lists of participating churches are on the website:
www.shropshirehct.org.uk.
