From The Venerable Derek Chedzey, Archdeacon of Hereford

Darkness and light are often a short hand in our western popular culture for the forces of good and evil. We know instantly in films and television who the heroes and villains are often by the colour of their clothes. So often arguments in our culture are often presented as binary choices between right and wrong, good and bad, left wing or right wing, etc. Just look at the reporting in our news media about world events and you quickly see that we are presented with clear choices rather than any sense of nuance. I was listening on the radio as I prepared to write this, and what was being suggested was that when it comes to political debate most people would prefer nuance to bold binary statements. In many other cultures too, darkness represents evil or hidden unsavoury activities. Alongside this we may find that many of our human fears revolve around darkness and what hides in it. Yet what has struck me recently is that in scripture the idea of darkness is not always so binary. I want to challenge you to look again at what the writers of the bible say and begin to understand darkness with the eyes of faith rather than through the lens of culture. In Psalm 139 the psalmist talks about darkness from God's perspective:

"Even the darkness is not dark to You, And the night is as bright as the day. Darkness and light are alike to You." Psalm 139:12

God does not differentiate light and dark in the way we do, after all he created both of them. We do not live in a 'yin and yang' universe of two equal powers of good and evil or opposing forces of light and dark like a celestial chess set. We don't live in a Star Wars like universe with mystical forces at play that are held in balance with a constant struggle of the dark side and the light side! The bible however does use the ideas of light and dark to differentiate between those who love and follow God and those who do not. Isaiah in his prophecy about the coming Messiah reminds them that when God comes to live amongst them then the light of the kingdom will shine on them. The prophet reminds them in a powerful metaphor that the light of the kingdom will dispel and overcome the darkness.

“The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shone.”

Isaiah 9:2

We should however never equate that with two equal and opposite powers. Instead, it is an analogy which helps us understand that we have choices and God represents the best choices available to us. Many of the New Testament writers talk about the Christian faith as choosing to live in the daylight rather than in the night time. They want the early church to understand that we need to live consistently, transparently and in the open so people can see the difference our faith makes to the way we live our lives. John in the great prologue to his Gospel uses exactly this picture reminding us that God cannot be overwhelmed or swept away by the darkness.

“What came into existence was Life, and the Life was Light to live by. The Life-Light blazed out of the darkness; the darkness couldn’t put it out.” John 1:5

It reminds us too that even at the very darkest moments of our lives God has not walked away from us, he is not absent, and he stands alongside us. Matthew in his Gospel recognises this when he records these words from Jesus to his disciples.

“What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light; and what you hear whispered in your ear, proclaim upon the housetops.” Matthew 10:27

Jesus wants the disciples to know that he is with them and alongside them at every stage and he will not turn his back or walk away from us. It is the Holy Spirit given to us at Pentecost who whispers to our hearts and guides us in our daily lives, it is the Spirit who will give us the words to speak when we don’t know how to pray. If as you read this because of life’s circumstances, you feel trapped in the darkness, remember that God stands in it with you.

Clergy Thoughts

Nicene Creed

We believe in one God, the Father, the almighty, maker of heaven and earth,

of all that is, seen and unseen.

We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father,

God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, of one being with the Father.

Through him all things were made.

*For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven;
by the power of the Holy Spirit he became incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and was made man.*

*For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate;
he suffered death and was buried.*

*On the third day he rose again in accordance with the scriptures;
he ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the father.*

He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and his kingdom will have no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son.

With the Father and the Son he is worshipped and glorified. He has spoken through the Prophets.

We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins. We look for the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. Amen.

As we look forward to what we probably hope will be a long hot summer, we also enter a new Church season – that of Trinity. It is the longest liturgical period in the year and is also what we call “Ordinary Time.” So, there are no special festivals between now and Advent to inspire these clergy thoughts and inspiration needs to be sought elsewhere.

So let’s think of a very special anniversary that fell this year, the 1700th anniversary of the first council of Nicaea. The emperor Constantine had recently made Christianity the official religion of the Roman Empire. But already heresies were beginning to creep in, and Constantine wanted a unified church. He summoned all the bishops – 300 of them - to meet and decide on a formula of belief, especially concerning the nature of the Trinity, on which they could all agree, and which would ensure that the church would be cleansed of heresy. Some of the heretic bishops attended but were unable to sway the council. The story goes that the Bishop of Myra – whom we know as St Nicholas – attended and got into an argument with the heretic Arius – and slapped him in the face. The patience of saints? Even saints can lose their cool.

But after all the dispute, the Council came up with a statement of faith, a creed, which has come down to us over those seventeen centuries and which is still the bedrock of today’s church – the Nicene Creed. The actual anniversary of the Council was in May, but the Church has now issued a booklet to commemorate the event by taking a close look at that creed. It is called We believe: Exploring the Nicene Creed, and is available from Amazon, or, preferably, direct from Church House Publishing for £3.99. It looks at the creed phrase by phrase, giving thoughts and meditations and Bible references, and aims to deepen understanding of the truths of the creed.

There is not enough space here to look at the creed in detail – though there is a reminder of the wording at the beginning of this article. For more you will need to get the book. But let’s just think here of why this creed is so important, 1700 years after it was originally composed.

First, it remains the foundational statement of our beliefs. It does not put forward any special theories but concentrates on the fundamentals. It does name all three persons of the Godhead giving us what the Bible does not, a definition of the Trinity. Contrary to what Arius was saying, the fact that Jesus and the Holy Spirit are just as much God as the Father is a nonnegotiable part of Christianity.

And, with regard to Jesus, the creed puts the incarnation into its historical context making it clear that, though God, he was indeed human. And because of that we can actually know God in Jesus. This is what we believe as Christians!

Then it is important for its provenance – that auspicious Council attended by many great names of the early Church who prayerfully spent so long working out a formula which would be acceptable to all the faithful. And, important too, for the centuries of tradition which followed during which it continued to unite Christians.

Which gives us another reason for its importance – because as Constantine intended it does provide that unity of belief which binds us and keeps us together. Walk into almost any Christian church on a Sunday morning and you will hear it recited in the local language. Whatever our race or colour, we are ONE catholic and apostolic church. And, as it says in the introduction to the booklet, “it unites believers across time and space in a shared confession of who God is and what he has done in Jesus Christ.”

All this makes it a very precious part of our heritage. I confess that in my youth, I would often switch off during the reciting of the creed, and perhaps some still do. But I have now come to realise what a gem it truly is and thank God for the wisdom and understanding of the men who put it together. Next time you say it, pray that its truths may be an inspiring presence in your life.

Quatford News

Time is flying by ,and we will soon be at the end of this month, which leads us to our annual concert. We are looking forward to the show choir visiting Quatford again this year to entertain us. If you have not already seen them here is your chance . They are great—an excellent mix of music which should cater for all tastes. All welcome, pay on the door and there will be plenty of liquid refreshments and a lovely selection of puddings. We look forward to seeing you.

The 19th June is the day for our Quinquennial. Hopefully there will not be any major issues, having already had serious electrical works carried out ,the repairs to the lightning conductor, and on going remedial work to the lift - I think that's enough for this year !. We missed Gods Acre volunteers this spring, but expect them for our autumn visit towards the end of September, in the meantime the sheep will be visiting again soon.

We are also hoping to have a quiz night later in the summer, more details nearer the date.

As Marjorie was starting her summer break following our last service it meant we would miss her birthday, so we held a small gathering after the service ,as it was my dog Ted's 14th birthday too. (Discretion does not allow me to reveal Marjorie's age), but with her consent we had a joint celebration, with the inevitable cake. Most people were able to stay and it made for a pleasant occasion. Thank you Marjorie for being a good sport and more importantly for your ministry to us .

Shropshire Rural Support

Doing nothing is not an option

Shropshire is one of the most beautiful counties in England from the Teme Valley to the Long Mynd to the rolling land in the north of the county. The farms that make up and manage this beautiful pastoral scene are run by farmers and their families who are in one of the most stressful and, at times, isolated of occupations with sadly amongst the highest levels of suicide in the UK.

Many of the farms are multigenerational family businesses with up to 3 generations working together on the farm with all the ups and downs of family businesses with the added complication of living on top of each other. Also, not only do they have to put up with vagaries of the weather, but also with continually changing government regulations and the dominance of the supermarkets controlling prices. Some 30 years ago, in a year when suicide incidents peaked in Shropshire, Shropshire Rural Support was set up to support farmers, their families and people living and working in rural Shropshire at times of need. The enquiries we receive cover both business issues and personal issues including bereavement, loneliness, domestic abuse, family fallouts, succession and divorce. Our role is to ensure the caller is signposted to a safe place where they can access the help that they need to address their particular issue, though sometimes it is a case of our being there to listen. We are a self-funding charity run by volunteers, most of whom have a farming background and understand the issues of running a farm. Assisted by the volunteers the day-to-day operation is delivered by 2 part time coordinators.

Shropshire Rural Support continued

The support service is available 24/7/365 via a free phone helpline that ensures that whatever the time-of-day people can readily access our confidential service. For those, particularly the younger generation, who prefer to text message rather than talking on a phone, we have recently launched a free confidential 24/7/365 text messaging helpline.

Doing nothing is not an option, if you know of someone you are worried about, please encourage to them they get in touch by ringing the confidential free phone number 0300 123 2825 or text SRS to 85258. There is also a wealth of information is available on our website www.shropshireruralsupport.org.uk

St Calixtus, Astley Abbotts

We have had a wonderful June, with services to suit everyone, Simon Boxall took our 1st Sunday Communion ,thankyou Simon for such an uplifting service. Trinity Sunday our family service was taken by Rosemary-always fun and thought provoking. The choir rushed off to Tasley for their Trinity taken by Stephen, helped by Clive. Judy gave us an extremely clever look at Pentecost.

Our cafe church takes place on Sunday 13th July, come and join us in the village hall at 10am, for a great breakfast and discussion. In the afternoon our local "worship leaders" are being licensed at St Calixtus at 4pm, followed by refreshments. Please come and support them as they move forward in their ministry.

If anyone has time, the Community Junction - a benefice wide project - is supporting The Grove, Bridgnorth during the summer holidays on Thursday 24th July, 7th and 24th August Speak to Helen Holding if you can help.

Our very own professional singer Paul Roberts is very kindly giving us a concert in St Calixtus on August 9th. For details nearer time we will be giving out fliers and it will be on our Facebook page.

Advance notice of our churchyard cleanup with God's Acre which is Thursday 4th September. We could do with lots of help cutting, trimming, learning to use scythes-very good for the figure! Although the amazing cakes Helen produces aren't!! We hope there is something for everyone over the summer.

Vickie Dunlop

Vickie is our new curate and is being deaconed at Hereford Cathedral on Saturday 5th July.

We would like to warmly welcome Vickie into the Team ministry and parishes. If you wish to say hello in person we will be holding a Welcome Lunch at St Leonards Hall Church on Sunday 6th July 12.30pm—5pm

Hello, my name's Vickie. I am married to Neil (a senior prison chaplain) and we have three children. Since my teenage years, I knew I had a call to serve God as we all do, but it was not until around six years ago that I understood this to be within the context of ordained ministry. So, I started training with CGH (a partnership between Hereford Diocese and Ripon College, Cuddesdon) three years ago and after my ordination at the start of July, I will begin my role as Curate in The Bridgnorth & Morville Parishes. I am so excited to meet you all and to join in with what God is doing amongst you.

Sat. 13th September

Ride+Stride is an opportunity for YOU to raise money for your Church. Anyone can join in - collect sponsors, then plan your own route - walk, bike, or car - visit some churches - enjoy the day. If you are busy on the 13th, go another day - which is what a lot of people do.

The sponsorship money is split 50/50 between your local Church and the Shropshire Historic Churches Trust (SHCT), which awards grants for repairs and improvements to our Churches and Chapels.

'Ride+Stride' is a National event by the National Churches Trust and Shropshire is pleased to join in. The basic idea is two-fold:

- (1) Churches are open for visitors on Saturday 13 Sept from about 10 to 6, ideally with light refreshments (biscuits. squash; cake maybe).
- (2) Anyone can visit as few or as many churches as you wish.

Go anywhere ... on foot, by bike, or by car, using our Sponsorship Form to collect sponsorship for your church and for the Trust.

Get some sponsors to back you on a church-based trip to some of our Churches.

The Sponsorship Form is on the website www.shropshirehct.org.uk

Or contact your local church organiser. You can still go and visit other churches, even if your own church is closed. Visiting is important; otherwise, the event will cease. The county raised £38,446 last year - a record!

Our two Dioceses, Hereford and Lichfield, are encouraging it to grow - even in Parishes where the event is not well-known and the open churches get hardly any visitors. Yet. Please 'have a go' this year .
Help preserve our Churches in good repair; and help to keep them open for the future.

Tasley News

This year is passing by rapidly, as I write our Tasley news we are only a few days away from the “longest Day” and nearly half way through the year.

After six months we were pleased to have Stephen back taking the All Age Worship Service, which this year coincided with Pentecost. The singing was strengthened with the Tasley Astley choir & was followed by 2 adult Baptisms where we welcomed Zach and Ian into the family of the Church.

Members of St Leonards Hall Church joined us on the 15th June for our Fathers day Service. It was good to see so many of them make the journey up the lane. We have now applied for building regulation to convert our out building into a composting toilet and have received a quotation from a local builder. We hope work can start in September.

Tasley Social Committee will be hosting this years “Puddings Afternoon” on the Sunday 13th July at Manderly House on Church Lane at 2.30pm. If you enjoy puddings this is the event you won’t want to miss. Twenty plus homemade puddings to enjoy and be entertained by the AB ukulele band. Have lunch at home and come and have pudding with us. All proceeds will be divided between Hope House and the Severn Hospice.

100 Club winners for June

Oldbury News

At St Nicholas we decided to try 'no mow' May this year. The warm weather in May meant everything was growing vigorously. There were lots of buttercups and other small flowers as well as some rather larger flowers and it all made for a very busy and cheerful scene. There were bees visiting some of the flowers, but we had very few butterflies - perhaps it was still rather early for them. I imagine the churchyard was popular with the young birds, who surely benefitted from the extra ground cover as they began to search for food by themselves. In June we really needed to tidy up the churchyard and make sure there was safe access to the graves, so a small party cut, tidied and cleared all the main areas and the pathways. Our thanks go to Tony, our groundsman, and to all who worked so hard outside and made the churchyard so welcoming.

As Cross Link goes to press Westwood House's Open Garden Evening featuring roses and other summer flowers, with Pimms and light refreshments will be taking place. We are looking forward to the evening and it seems as though we might be enjoying some warm sunny weather on the day. There will also be a plant sale and visitors will be able to watch a group from Shropshire Historic Churches Trust playing tennis.

Any proceeds from the evening will be shared between Shropshire Historic Churches Trust and St Nicholas Church funds. We are very grateful to our hosts for arranging what promises to be a lovely evening

Our thanks also go to the SHCT for their encouragement and to the teams from the church and Oldbury involved in helping to set things up and looking after the refreshments. Thank you to everyone who has come together once again to create another of these warm and friendly occasions.

Roly has sent me some photos of last year's evening event showing the flowers, the plant stall, and the dogs who also enjoyed getting involved in the preparations! We will be able to give you a further update when we next see you.

The plan for the church to commission an altar cloth using some of the money bequeathed to St Nicholas Church by Jean Driver is continuing to take shape. When it is completed, it will be dedicated in memory of Jean, who with her parents had been members and supporters of our church.

More generally the PCC and church are considering issues regarding the church building, and perhaps more importantly how we as a village church and parish respond to the needs and challenges of today's world. We have spent a little time considering what role we can play in the life of our community and what our strengths and possibilities might be. We would welcome comments and ideas from others, and we need to gather information too, in order to inform our thoughts.

Sadly, I have to report the deaths of two well-loved people whose funerals took place in June. David Connolly who died recently had lived most of his adult life in the centre of Oldbury, where he had been a good neighbour to many locally and a much valued member of the local community. Kenn Biggs also died recently. When he moved to Bridgnorth many years ago he became an active member of our church family and of the Oldbury and Quatford choir. He had always kept contact with us, even after he had moved to be nearer to family. Ken's funeral took place here in our church. We remember Ken and David with fondness and our thoughts and prayers are with their families.

In the next couple of months, we have a Baptism planned for July and a wedding towards the end of August. We always look forward to these happy events and our thoughts and best wishes go to all concerned and their families.

On August 15th the church will be open at 6.30pm so that our bell can be rung for V J Day to celebrate peace and the end of the second world war in 1945, and also to remember all those who served in the Far East. I am sure a few more details will be circulated nearer the date but anyone wishing to be there or to take part would be welcome.

With best wishes to everyone over the summer months.

Ann Walter

St. Mary's News

Anyone entering the church recently may have noticed how very tidy it is now looking. This is in the main thanks to David our church warden, Lynn his wife and Bill Howe who spent a couple of days tidying us up. So our thanks to them they have done a good job.

Like all churches this month we have had the pleasure of celebrating both Pentecost ( birthday of the church ) and Trinity Sunday.

This month has also seen the return of the Haydn Festival to St. Mary's. It is always a pleasure to host this event as it is an opportunity to welcome so many visitors into our church to enjoy such wonderful talent.

The connect lunch and Saturday coffee shop continue to thrive with everybody welcome at either or both.

Best wishes.
