From Rt. Revd. Richard Jackson Bishop of Hereford

The parish where I served as vicar in Sussex had a population of around 3000. In the first world war there were about 800 and 33 names were recorded on the roll of honour. It is hard to imagine now that level of loss. The vicar lost his son and nearly every family in the village was affected. Every year, helped by an exhibition of their lives by a wonderful Church Warden, the number at Remembrance Day service grew. His research at one point called into question whether one of the names remembered on the WWII board had actually died! A brief panic was relieved when he discovered the person living in Canada was the same name but a different person. Few had any connection now with those we remembered, even from WWII when another twenty lost their lives. For many people it was the only service of the year they attended. It never failed to be a moving occasion.

In part, attendance was an opportunity to pay respects to those who paid the ultimate sacrifice. But there was a deeper action as well. Those we remembered died because they believed a particular set of values were worth fighting for. They fought against tyranny, the treating of one group of people as inferior to others, and the idea that might makes right. The Nazi regime was the antithesis of the love that Jesus urges as our root value from which all else flows. These Christian values are not intuitive to human beings. As the historian Tom Holland has conclusively argued in his book Dominion, a society wouldn't have these values but for Christian faith. Even the nihilist philosopher Nietzsche recognised this when he said, "When one gives up the Christian faith, one pulls the right to Christian morality out from under one's feet. Christianity is a system, a whole view of things thought out together. By breaking one main concept out of it, the faith in God, one breaks the whole: nothing necessary remains in one's hands." He did this ending up with a philosophical system where power was the ultimate goal and looking out for the weak was despised.

In the confusing mixture of motivations that drove people to attend the 'Unite the Kingdom' march in London a few weeks ago were calls to reclaim the Christian heritage of the nation. In some way this is commendable, but the wielding of crosses in that context felt anything but the sacrificial love that the cross represents. Symbols are powerful things and need to be wielded with care. Crosses can be symbols of love and sacrifice or burnt by men in white robes on the way to a lynching. As Christians we assert the former as the only true representation of our nation's values.

Rt. Revd. Richard Jackson

Clergy Thoughts

The Halloween costumes and pumpkins are out of the shops and being replaced by Christmas 'stuff'. We can't wait to get to December, and the Christmas lights, and the celebrations, and the presents, and the.... So let's get through November as quickly as we can.

Hang on a minute though, there's a lot going on in November – and it's worth remembering. Because 'remembering' is what November is all about. 'Remember, remember, the fifth of November, Gunpowder, Treason and Plot!' So, fireworks, bonfires, (best to go to the public displays, and make sure that the pets are safe), maybe even hog roasts and hotdogs!

But it's not just remembering Guy Fawkes is it? On the first we remember the saints of the Church whose lives have inspired us, and on the second we remember those we have known and who are perhaps amongst the unnamed saints.

Then of course, it's Remembrance Sunday. Last year I was privileged to lead the service at St Mary Magdalene – there were members of the Uniformed Organisations, wearing the badges they had earned. Past and present members of the Armed Forces present were also there of course, wearing the medals they had earned. On that occasion, I wore my academic hood, which showed that I had earned a university degree. All symbols of what we had earned.

But I was also wearing a cross, an empty cross. And that signified something that I could never earn or deserve. The cross is a symbol of what Jesus has done for me, for all of us – He died (and rose again) to take away my/our sin and replace that death-dealing sin with eternal and abundant LIFE – a GIFT that is wonderful beyond words.

And what about this? St. Paul reminds us that we are part of the Body of Christ, and each one of us is a member of it. So, when we meet together, especially perhaps when we celebrate Communion, let's REMEMBER what Jesus has done for each and every one of us, and let's RE-MEMBER His Body here on earth, putting it back together again, by making sure we sort out any differences we may have with any other MEMBER.

"Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it." (1 Corinthians 12.27)

“[Jesus said] ‘This is My body, that is for you. Do this in remembrance of Me’....Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me.” (1 Corinthians 11.24,25)

Get Your Lights Right!

Genesis: 1:16 ‘Then God made two great lights: the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night.’

John 1:7 ‘This man came for a witness, to bear witness of the light that all through him, might believe.’

John 1:9 ‘That was the true light which gives light to every man coming into the world.’

The Sun And Moon

The Sun and Moon spoke out as one;
‘Why do men think us pagan things—
Or pray to us as they have done?’
The Sun and Moon spoke out as one;
‘There was one sent called God the Son
To end such false imaginings.’
The Sun and Moon spoke out as one;
‘Why do men think us pagan things?’

The Sun and Moon, I’m sure I heard
Bewail such deity imposed;
‘We were created by The Word’;
The Sun and Moon, I’m sure I heard
Say ‘He spoke and these things occurred;
Praise you gave us and him opposed.’
The Sun and Moon, I’m sure I heard
Bewail such deity imposed;

The Sun and Moon spoke their unease;
‘Of such ill deeds we hold aloof—
that men have fallen to their knees.’
The Sun and Moon spoke their unease;
‘God cried’ “Why do they worship these—
Was My Son insufficient proof?”
The Sun and Moon spoke their unease;
‘Of such ill deeds we hold aloof’.

Benefice days in 2025

So far this year we have met together in three village halls including Astley Abbots, Morville and most recently in Tasley.

We've had two visiting speakers Reverend Christopher Landau from Resource and Heather Martin who leads the Youth hubs project for the diocese.

We've spent time journeying through the story of Joseph, exploring why we as the church in our communities exist and lastly with Heather we focussed on what it means to dwell in God's presence and who he's calling us to be through our actions and calling as the people of God across our team of churches.

Over 2026 we will be continuing this journey together so put the following dates in your diaries to be part of this ongoing discussion.

St. Mary's News

It is hard to believe this is the November edition of the Crosslink and there is only one more edition before Christmas. If you pop into St. Mary's in the next few weeks though, you won't be able to fail to notice the lovely cascade of poppies adorning the church reminding us all that this is the season of remembrance. In keeping with this theme of Remembrance, we at St. Mary's had the very great honour of holding our seconded service of the year for the commemoration of the departed. It is always a privilege to remember peoples loved ones with them.

It is not all about remembrance though, as I have the very great pleasure of announcing the appointment of Mr Stephen Cooper as the new organist at St. Mary's. He has already made progress in re-establishing our choir and we look forward to hearing much more from him over the coming months and years.

This month saw us host the very popular exhibition of knitted bible stories. We were able to welcome a large number of visitors to the church to admire the exhibition, and all our visitors were delighted by the portrayal of popular bible stories in knitted figures. The scenes were very clever and involved a lot of work. I think we all had our favourites I loved the Noah's ark with all the animals.

We also had the pleasure of hosting an evening where we heard of the work of the Wototo choir. The stories they told us of the work being done was truly amazing and we hope to hear more from them next year.

Like most churches in the Benefice we have this month celebrated our Harvest Festival. As usual the church was beautifully decorated with fruit, flowers and produce including a lovely display provided by the school. Our thanks are owed to all those who worked so hard to decorate the church.

There have been two brunches at the Shakespeare held with our friends at the Baptist church. The next is on 1st November which is also the day of our Fayre and the Connect lunch continues the third Tuesday of each month. The coffee mornings are every Saturday morning with an opportunity to hear the Chamber Choir rehearse in readiness for their Christmas concert.

Quatford News

Our quinquennial inspection found some building fabric issues which we are now taking steps to address. A notable concern is the need to bird proof the tower; the crows have broken in again. They are, unfortunately, very persistent.

A highlight of late September was a visit by Revd Liz Angell, our former vicar, who was visiting the area and kindly joined us in our 28 September Communion service, along with several Oldbury parishioners. It was lovely to see her again, and a delight to hear her wonderful voice.

At the time of writing, we are looking forward to our joint Service of Remembrance on the 9th November at 10.30, where both Oldbury and Quatford parishioners will join together in this solemn service. The service again takes place at a time when war is still being waged in the world and so many lives are being lost or ruined; can humans ever all live together in peace?

At this time of year, we must of course be thinking about Christmas, and our first service will be the Carol Service on the 21st December at 3.00 pm followed by the Christmas Communion Service on Christmas Eve also at 3.00 pm. I will conclude with a short, seasonal poem by R S Thomas, a famous poet who was also a Welsh Anglican vicar.

A Day in Autumn:

It will not always be like this,
The air windless, a few last
Leaves adding their decoration
To the trees' shoulders, braiding the cuffs
Of the boughs with gold; a bird preening

In the lawn's mirror. Having looked up
From the day's chores, pause a minute,
Let the mind take its photograph
Of the bright scene, something to wear

Against the heart in the long cold. As we move from autumn to the coming winter, the poem does seem especially fitting. We take heart from the colours of autumn, even if just as a remembered snapshot, and use the memory to help ward off the cold. Then, of course, as always, renewal at spring will follow.

Our Ride and Stride experiences

Richard's Experience – walking & driving

Dodging the shower and meeting some truly wonderful people, I visited 12 churches in the benefice and was lucky enough to come across the oldest. St Gregory's in Morville is a remarkable window into Norman England, Saxon heritage and the ongoing life of a rural church. In 2018 the church celebrated its 900th anniversary, marking 9 centuries since its consecration. A thoroughly enjoyable experience!

Sheila & Blake's experience – cycling

Our journey began with a false start due to problems with Sheila's saddle and the elastic in Blake's cycling shorts! However, once on our way we had a lovely tour of 10 churches, all built to serve the spiritual needs of their communities, and ranging from the 12th Century Morville & Aston Eyre buildings to St Leonard's Hall Church built in the 1960s. At the time of our visit, the Hall Church was serving the community in a different way with a Saturday slimming class!

Memorable moments included a warm welcome at Aston Eyre, where preparations were underway for a special village wedding, and at Oldbury, where Blake searched the hand crafted kneelers and was delighted to find the one with a nativity scene that he'd stitched some 40 years ago. Monkhopton provided welcome shelter from a heavy shower and a chance to relax and pray with fellow travelers. Back in Bridgnorth it was lovely to enjoy the hospitality of Methodist and Baptist churches, especially as the Baptists had joined the event for the first time this year.

Iain Sievewright's experiences

My idea was to walk to St. Calixtus in Astley Abbots followed by visiting Quatford and possibly Oldbury Churches afterwards. Unfortunately had an inkling that my recent disturbance to my right heel would prevent me completing my ambition. Never-the-less on a bright looking day, I started walking. Not following any roads to start other than those which one has to follow to get over Bridgnorth Bridge. Some warm sunshine, lovely for walking. Past the golf club; had to join the road to Colmore Green (no choice), up a steep hill and on reaching the top (the road is somewhat narrow) this car came shooting down, just missing me!

More tragedy appeared as raindrops kept falling on my head but that didn't mean my eyes would soon be turning red! Onward to St. Calixtus which at last came into view and with the sky turning black, just arrived in time. A lovely welcome with six people who were busy cleaning. The cakes and drinks were soon made available so sat and enjoyed the rest and pleasant chat.

Off to St. Mary's with some stunning views on the way and walking was very enjoyable and easy! But what's over there? Big black clouds! What was I to do? Stanley Lane offered some shelter but the rain was excessive! Walk abandoned and when the rain reduced to a gentle shower, I made my way home despite the weight of rain in my clothes! As I was striding off, my right foot was aching as policeman's foot had taken hold!

Ann's experiences

Driving, walking, cycling and collecting money

In the past I've done all but cycling. When I was younger, I walked a few locally. Then, when I had a car I drove three friends round five or six of them, especially Stottesdon where we had lovely refreshments. What I haven't done is to be driven around as a passenger. So when Dave Tonks asked me to accompany him as he intended to drive, I jumped at it. We set off to Tasley and carried on for four hours, unbelievably visiting ten churches of variable ages. We met some lovely people with interesting conversations. We sang hymns in two churches, prayed in others, read tomb stones and plaques. We walked up long footpaths, dodging rain showers and sheltered in porches or inside unlocked buildings. We certainly had a wonderful spiritual afternoon in glorious countryside. A big thank you to everyone who took part and also to our sponsors.

Dave's experiences

Last year I walked round and visited, I think about 6 churches. The snacks and drinks on offer were much appreciated. Although we drove everywhere this year, I was still looking forward to sugary snacks and I was not disappointed! This was a very satisfying way to raise money for the church whilst enjoying Ann's company and the welcoming reception from the church hosts. The total collected by Ann and I was £125 of which half will be given to St Mary's, and the remainder benefiting other churches in the diocese.

Well done to everyone who took part in Ride and Stride this year—a very enriching and rewarding event!

St Calixtus, Astley Abbotts

Hello from us all at St Calixtus, wow, don't the months go by quickly!? We had a fantastic time at our Harvest Supper where we all enjoyed pies kindly delivered by Charlie from Alderson's Butchers, which were delicious, followed by loads of gorgeous homemade puddings. A big thank you to everyone who helped make the evening such a success.

Special thanks to Old Bones Dance Band who entertained us all evening, we even learned or relearned a few folk dances, which was great fun!

Our Harvest Festival Service saw us absolutely full the church! Thank you to The Two Churches Choir, and our Organist, Stephen Lomas for their contribution & to Mark Turner who brought along his tractor. The tractor & the refreshments really were the cherry on the top of a super Festival attended by over 65 people. We raised £173.05 in cash for the Foodbank, along with a car stuffed full of food. Thank you to everyone for their generosity.

On to dates for your diary, of which there are plenty as usual!

On Sunday 30th November our next Cafe Church will take place at 10am in the Village Hall. Do join us for breakfast & stimulating discussion This is always a great opportunity to ask the questions that really need asking, and listen to an interesting speaker in warmth & comfort!

On Sunday 7th December, there won't be a morning service at St Calixtus as there's an opportunity for all of us to worship together at St Mary's, Bridgnorth when Rev Suzan is licensed Rector for our Benefice Team. This service starts at 10.30am.

In the afternoon of the same day, 7th December, at 4pm, we are looking forward to hosting the first Team Folk Carol Service. At this service we will be singing traditional English folk carols to folk tunes, accompanied by folk musicians! Everyone is invited to join in with the fun, which will include refreshments & be led by Revd. Suzan, please come along.

The following week is another afternoon service instead of our usual Sunday morning one, again at 4pm. This time an Advent Carol Service at which we will be joined by The Two Churches Choir.

Our Crib Service will be on Christmas Eve at 4pm as usual, and Christmas Morning Holy Communion at 9am on Christmas Day.

If anyone would like to be more involved in any of the planning, organising or hosting of any service or event, do please let Idonea or Helen know. We are a happy team & many hands make light work & more fun!

We hope to see you at some or all of our upcoming services or events as it's always good when we can meet together, encourage and pray for each other.

God Bless, Helen

A CALL OUT TO ALL LOVERS OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS...

We are having a

FOLK CAROL SERVICE

on

7th December at 4pm

at

St Calixtus, Astley Abbotts

This will be a service for all of our community to enjoy by celebrating the best of the season with carols drawn from our rich and ancient folk heritage.

If you fancy getting involved by playing an instrument in our scratch-band, or can help us out with the singing then we'd really love to hear from you!

Please contact Peter or Helen Holding to find out more:

We're hoping that as many people as possible, from across all of our parishes, will come along and get involved in this very special and unique event.

If you're not a musician, then of course we'd still love to see you and your friends there.

Just come along to enjoy the service and to join us for refreshments afterwards.

Please do put the date in your diary! Open to all faiths and none.

Tasley News

Welcome to Novembers edition of Tasley News.

On the 12th October we celebrated our Harvest Festival. It was lovely to see so many people in Church. Thank you to Stephen for leading the Service and for all his hard work in the preparation of his Services especially our All Age Service. All of the non-perishable items from our Harvest Festival were again donated to the food bank.

Our Harvest Supper was a great success and was followed with our auction of produce. Our “resident auctioneer” John did a brilliant job. Thanks must also go to Tony for his generous donation of vegetables. Without everyone's time and generosity we would not be able to raise these valuable funds for our Church.

Following our Service of Holy Communion at which we were joined by the congregation of St Leonard's Hall Church, we welcomed Albie Davies and his family into the Church for his Baptism. We look forward to seeing them again in the near future.

On the 9th November at 10.30am we will be joining the congregation of St Calixtus, Astley Abbots for the Service of Remembrance. There will be no Service at Tasley on that day. Also note that there is no Service at Tasley on 30th November.

Something for your diary is Barry's Quiz night with cheese and wine. A fun night not to be missed! See you at the next coffee morning on Monday 3rd November 10.30 -12noon.

Oldbury News

We had our Harvest Thanksgiving on 5th October which was a well attended service with many donations for the Bridgnorth foodbank. On the following Saturday evening, October 11th, we also held a Harvest Supper in collaboration with our local community at Oldbury Village Hall. It proved a delightful evening. Food was donated on a bring and share basis; there were so many donations to the “Quirky” Raffle that half were retained for a later event. Proceeds from the half 'quirky raffle' were still enough to be shared between the village hall and Blossoms Barns in Chelmarsh. The whole evening has set a pattern to be repeated in future.

In September, as part of our Eucharist, we remembered Ken Biggs, a stalwart of the church, until ill health meant he moved to Weston Super Mare. Ken's ashes were buried in our churchyard earlier this year. A number of Ken's family and friends attended and a rose bush was planted in his memory, on the right-hand side of the path from the carpark to the church door. Sadly, we have just heard also of the death of his former wife, Jill; she was being treated in Compton Hospice and was too ill to attend the service, but had been expected to recover a little. Ken's rose had lost its flowers that day – it seems like his sadness, but his daughter has said we can all be glad that their faiths sustained them through everything.

Looking forward, Remembrance Sunday, on 9th November, will see us as always at Quatford, where the fallen from Eardington and Oldbury along with those from Quatford will be in our prayers.

We have a fifth Sunday this month, when we will be having the usual Coffee and Cake, with some “extras”. Proceeds will be donated to Christian Aid, as we did not make our usual collection this year in May. We will reinstate that next May in some form, but in the meantime everyone is welcome on 30th!

We have recently heard from Hereford's Diocesan Advisory Committee and our Archdeacon that we have permission to go ahead with the first stage of the repairs and replacements for our trench heating system. Initial arrangements are being discussed with our contractor about the practical details, so hopefully we will have some warmth this winter, but meanwhile keep wrapped up when you attend our services!
